

GROVER MCGUFFEY SLAYS BROTHER-IN-LAW

Bad Blood Between Them Resulted In Sunday Evening Killing.

Sunday evening about five o'clock Grover McGuffey shot and instantly killed his brother-in-law, Holly Shouse. The killing occurred near the home of both the men on the Stanford and Danville pike about four miles from town.

The men are tenants on the farm of T. A. Rice, and a year ago Shouse married McGuffey's sister. According to McGuffey, his sister had frequently been mistreated by her husband and the remorseless from McGuffey made enmity between the two men.

About dark Sunday evening McGuffey heard his sister screaming for help and he started across the road to Shouse's house. As he approached he called out to his sister to know what the trouble was.

"When Shouse heard my voice," said McGuffey, when seen by a reporter at the jail, "he came out armed with a knife and advanced on me, all the while cursing and threatening to cut my throat. I backed off but he kept coming and I fired, striking him I think somewhere about the throat."

Mr. Rice, for whom McGuffey worked, phoned for Deputy Sheriff Embury, who went to the scene of trouble and arrested McGuffey. When seen at the jail Monday morning he made the above statement to an I. J. reporter.

Undertaker J. L. Beasley was called to prepare the body of Shouse for burial and found that he had been shot in the back, the charge from McGuffey's shotgun having entered the right shoulder blade and cutting away part of the bone. The undertaker found no weapon on the body, but it was perhaps half an hour after the killing before he arrived on the scene and removed it into the house.

Shouse was able to walk into his house after he was shot, but died before he made any statement in regard to the shooting.

From a reliable source it is learned that Mrs. Shouse has stated that her husband was not beating her at the time but had gone out to get a bucket of water when she heard the shot fired, and upon entering the house he reeled toward her saying "Good-bye."

McGuffey has engaged Attorneys G. D. Florence and J. S. Owens to defend him and his examining trial will likely be held before Judge Bailey Saturday.

The father of the dead man lives at Brumfield, Ky., and he came up Monday night and took the remains to his home for interment.

Paid Up His 35th Year

Mr. J. H. Hilton, the popular farmer out on the Danville pike, stepped in the I. J. office Saturday and paid his subscription for another year, making his 35th consecutive year as a subscriber. Such friends are more precious than rubies, and the I. J. wishes him the heartiest compliments of the season and 35 more years of happiness and prosperity.

We wish to call your attention to the fact that most infectious diseases such as whooping cough, diphtheria and scarlet fever are contracted when the child has a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will quickly cure a cold and greatly lessen the danger of contracting these diseases. This remedy is famous for its cures of colds. It contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given to a child with implicit confidence. Sold by G. L. Penny.

A DEMOCRAT FOR 60 YEARS

W. T. Royalty, Near Middleburg, is Honored by all Who Know Him

Middleburg, Dec. 19.—W. T. Royalty, the venerable father, of A. H. Royalty, of Yosemite, surely deserves especial mention in these columns, for his life has been such that he enjoys the confidence and friendship of every one who knows him. He has just celebrated his 82nd birthday and can walk around quite lively for one of that great age. He has been voting the democratic ticket for 60 years and has never been known to scratch a tick-et. He united with the Christian church in early life, and has been a constant member of that denomination, always living up to his obligations and lending a helping hand to the cause of his Master.

His whole life has been spent in this immediate vicinity and we doubt very much that anything could be brought to bear that would induce him to sever his connection with this people. He is a grand old man and though having lived out his four score and ten years, it is hoped that he may be spared many years yet, to bless those with whom he is surrounded and inspire them to higher things.

Preachersville.

While preparing to light a fire in a new heating stove, one evening last week, Mrs. John Naylor was quite severely burned on the lower portion of her face. A quantity of kerosene was poured upon the wood to start a fire which had failed to ignite from a previous attempt to start a blaze. The flash which followed, knocked Mrs. Naylor across the room and besides the burn on her face, her hair was badly singed. It is a miracle that her injuries were not more serious.

Rev. E. B. English, who received a call from the Baptist church here, has notified the brethren that he will accept the pastorate for 1913. The church is highly pleased with the prospect and believe that the body will prosper under his care.

Miss Willie Moore closed her school here Friday with a nice little Christmas tree, which was highly enjoyed by her pupils. While this was her first school her ability to instruct the young pupils and those who are backward, as well as the more advanced, has been fully demonstrated. Miss Moore returns to her home at Stanford with the best wishes of her pupils and are content to leave.

Fred Bell is quite sick being confined to his bed after a two-week's siege of mumps. Richard Dyehouse is also very ill of the same malady, a physician in attendance.

John Naylor sold some corn to Evan Foley, out of crib at $2.50 delivered.

There was a Christmas tree at White's School House Monday night.

Miss Nell Newland, of Cedar Creek, is saleslady for W. C. Cummings, during the holiday rush, in his general store here.

The school of Miss Eva Merryman at Hobbs' School House closed Friday. She gave her pupils a very nice treat.

The Baptist Sunday school Thos. J. Camden, Sup't., sent the Baptist Orphan's Home, Louisville a nice box of provisions.

Mr. and Mrs. Burch Hester visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Una Traylor, of Stanford, were also guests of L. M. Anderson and family.

Miss Mary Pettus, who is teaching in the graded school at Bur-Quincy Naylor has had a bad finger caused by a red thorn.

George B. Colson, of Garrard, lost a good heifer by black leg.

It was a handsome little daughter which arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Brittain, at Norman Okla., and not a son as we had been informed.

Messrs. Church, of Garrard and McKinley, of Louisville, visited Mrs. Matt Rigby.

Middleburg

T. W. Branson and Robert Latham, went to Louisville today to see Mrs. Branson, who is under treatment at a hospital in that city.

Big hearted Lon Holmes was here Monday selling tinware to our merchants. Lon calls this God's country.

Miss Salena Jones left last week for northwestern Texas, where she will make her home in the future. Everybody regretted to see Miss Salena go as she was one of the best of young ladies being always first in every good work. She was a member of the Baptist church and a teacher in the Sunday school. It will be hard to fill her place.

Our stock must be reduced to dissolve partnership. Cummins & Wearan.

STRANGE MURDER OF GARRARD COUNTY NEGRO

Tim Peters Shot to Death and Body is Drugged Along Road by Rope.

Tim Peters, a negro living near Brantsville, Garrard county, was shot in the back of the head and instantly killed by unknown parties Saturday night, as he was driving in a spring wagon from Nicholasville. After he was killed, his body was dragged along the road by a rope tied to his ankles. When found Sunday morning the body was lying on the side of the road, partly in a ditch. Some distance off was the horse and wagon, and along the road for some distance could be seen the trail made by the corpse as it was dragged from the trail of the wagon.

So far, no trace has been found which might identify the murderer. At Lancaster Monday—the I. J. man, was told that there is absolutely no clue on the negro's slayer and all are at a loss to know why he was killed.

Immense Corn Crop

Embry Beasley, Ernest Pepples and Henry Hester, of this county, finished last Friday slunking out what was perhaps the largest corn crop ever raised in this section of Kentucky. The crop was raised on that is known as the old David Thompson place, just over the line in Garrard county. It consisted of 350 acres and every acre was carefully cultivated by these energetic farmers. It yielded fully 3,500 barrels and cost them on an average of $100 per week to slunk it and they were about three weeks completing the job. About 1,200 barrels of the cereal has already been sold to different parties at an average of $2.35 and they still have something like 2,000 barrels left. The owners estimate that their net profit will be around $800 each. Who says that farming does not pay when looked after?

King's new "East Lynn" which plays at the Stanford Opera House Thursday night, Jan. 2, comes direct from a successful engagement at the Shubert Maximo theatre, Louisville. This fact is a guarantee that the show is of the first class and Stanford theatre goers are assured of a proper presentation of this famous old play. The prices are children 25c adults 35c. Reserved seats 50c.

William Walls, a 19 year old youth of the southern end of the county, and Miss Nannie Maxwell, sweet 16 secured license yesterday from County Clerk Cooper and were joined heart and hand in a ceremony performed at the home of the bride near King's Mountain.

Drives off a Terror

The chief executioner of death in the winter and spring months is pneumonia. Its advance agents are colds and grip. In any attack by one of these maladies no time should be lost in taking the best medicine obtainable to drive it off. Countless thousands have found this to be Dr. King's New Discovery. "My husband believes it has kept him from having pneumonia three or four times," writes Mrs. George W. Place Rawsonville, Vt., "and for coughs, colds and croup we have never found its equal." Guaranteed for all bronchial affections. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at all druggists.

50 CENTS A POUND

Was Record Price at Peoples Warehouse Last Week

The burning suns of July have never sent the thermometer higher than the prices of tobacco went last week in Danville. The record price over the breaks there was made on Saturday at the People's Tobacco Warehouse, Perryville street, when the superior tobacco grown by S. H. May, of Casey county, brought the magnificent price of 50 Cents Per Pound. Think of tobacco selling for that amount, when it is possible to grow 1,500 to 2,000 pounds of it to the acre with proper cultivation.

The proprietors of the People's Tobacco Warehouse are feeling as cheery as one could imagine over their triumph of making the record sale over the Danville breaks. This record is not all, either; they have a right to be proud of the whole offering Saturday on their floors. A number of baskets sold at 50 cents, 40 cents, 32 cents, 30 cents while one crop of over 800 pounds averaged 28 1-2 cents. Another splendid crop averaged $26.03, and yet another averaged $25.75. Mr. Grower, what do you think of this for one day's sale? It is enough to make you wish that you had grown more of the weed and brought it to this house, isn't it?

Danville is now established as the equal of any of the tobacco markets of the state and in many respects the superior, as the facilities for handling are better there than elsewhere and you get your tobacco sold the day you place it on the breaks, which is an exception to the rule. The capacity of the People's Tobacco Warehouse has been greatly enlarged and everything for the convenience of the grower is to be found at this well equipped house, where universal courtesy is extended to all, whether he be a small or large grower.

Several baskets, from the crop of Mr. Chas. P. Cecil, of Boyle county, were sold over the floors of this house which brought 31 cents 31 cents and 25 cents a pound.

The following are some of the splendid averages made Saturday over the floors of the People's Tobacco Warehouse breaks:

McLane and Anderson, of Boyle county, sold 850 pounds of their superior crop of tobacco, which brought the splendid average of $28.50

This is the highest average that has been made over the Danville breaks this year and it is a record that will be hard to excel anywhere in the state this year.

L. C. Cornish, of Mercer county, sold 1,430 pounds of his splendid crop which brought the excellent average of $26.03

J. E. True, of Mercer county, sold 1,235 pounds of his holdings at an average of $20.63

Rankin and Evans, of Garrard, sold 2,150 pounds of their excellent crop which averaged

$25.75

Elliott and Elliott, of Garrard county, sold 3,255 pounds of their crop, which averaged

$17.54

Eugene Dunn, of Lincoln county, sold 1,840 pounds of his crop that averaged $20.50

The next sale will be held on Jan. 2, 1913. Tobacco will be received all during the holidays.

Xmas Entertainment at School

The first three grades of the Stanford school gave their annual Xmas entertainment at the college Friday afternoon, in the presence of a large number of patrons and friends of the school. On entering any of the rooms you could see that Xmas had indeed come. In each was a gayly decked tree, bright with ornaments while freezes of Santa Claus, many colored stockings—Xmas bells and other samples of juvenile art decorated the rooms. Each grade gave a separate part of the entertainment. The first grade, in concert showing admirable skill in the things they kept together. It is no small task to train so many little children in such a splendid way. Miss McKinney must indeed possess great patience and perseverance.

The third grade under Miss Jennie Newland acquitted itself well, going through its long and difficult concert recitations without a mistake.

Several times the second grade appeared with song and recitation and closed the program with an unusually clever and attractive "Mother Goose Party" at which the old woman who lived in a shoe, Jack and Jill, Little Boy Peew, Little Boy Blue and many other old familiar friends appeared.

Altogether it was a most creditable entertainment and many congratulations are due Misses McKinney and Newland and Mrs. Phillips who must have worked hard for this good showing.

Daniels—Hammetree

Ben H. Hammetree, a prominent railroad man of Butler county Tenn. and Mrs. Pearl Daniels, an attractive widow of this place, were married at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Cabell on lower Main street last week. They have the best wishes of many friends.

Rowland

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Trammel and pretty little daughter, Irene, of Corbin, are the guests of relatives and friends here.

Mrs. Arney Goodrich and sons, Roy and Lamont and niece Miss Pearl Doray, of Plymouth, Wis., who have been the guests of Mrs. G. W. Goodrich, left last week for Kentwood, Fla., where they will make their home.

Miss Frankie Peyton Walker, of Upton, Ky., is with relatives here.

Mr. Joe Smith, of Corbin, is with home-folks Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Capps, of Lebanon, Junction, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. L. Albright.

Mrs. A. P. Grigsby, of Louisville is with relatives here.

Mrs. Patience Pritchett is with her daughter at Lancaster.

Miss Pearl Hinn, of Boston, is with relatives here.

Mr. T. C. Hall, Jr., of Covington, has been the guest of his mother, Mrs. D. C. Collier.

Mr. Allen Dennis, of Illinois, is with the home-folks.

TOBACCO BRINGS

SPLENDID PRICES

Crop Light This Year and Demand Is Enormous—Kincaid Buying up Crops

The farmer who put in a good sized crop of tobacco this year and took good care of it is going to amply be rewarded. Tobacco is selling better right now than it has for several years in Kentucky, and the indications are that the market will
